1 The Court finds that the parties and his/her respective counsel acknowledge that
2 they have concurrently executed a Stipulated Further Judgment dated March 29, 2006
3 which contains the executory provisions of the agreement reached between the parties.
4 The Court further finds that pursuant to the agreement of the parties:

5 A. This Judgment of Dissolution of Marriage contains no executory or other
6 provisions of said Stipulated Further Judgment;

7 B. Said Stipulated Further Judgment has been executed in duplicate and either
8 party may, subject to the notice provisions hereof, file an excerpt of the Stipulated Further
9 Judgment at any time that such party believes that the filing of same is reasonably
10 necessary to obtain compliance with any provision of said Stipulated Further Judgment or 11 to enforce any executory term contained therein. Notwithstanding the foregoing, said
12 Stipulated Further Judgment shall not be filed with the Court unless the party who alleges
13 a breach: (1) provides the other party with ten (10) business days advance written notice
14 identifying the alleged breach; and (2) such breach has not been cured within said ten (10)
15 business day period.

16 Based upon the foregoing, the Court orders that either party may file all or any 17 portion of the Stipulated Further Judgment executed concurrently herewith (after providing 18 notice as is set forth in Paragraph B above).

NOTICE

Dissolution or legal separation may automatically cancel the rights of a spouse or domestic partner under the other spouse's or domestic partner's will, trust, retirement plan, power of attorney, pay-on-death bank account, transfer-on-death vehicle registration, survivorship rights to any property owned in joint tenancy, and any other similar thing. It does not automatically cancel the rights of a spouse or domestic partner as beneficiary of the other spouse's or domestic partner's life insurance policy. You should review these matters, as well as any credit cards, other credit accounts, insurance policies, retirement plans, and credit reports, to determine whether they should be changed or whether you should take any other actions.

A debt or obligation may be assigned to one party as part of the dissolution of property and debts, but if that party does not pay the debt or obligation, the creditor may be able to collect from the other party.

An earnings assignment may be issued without additional proof if child, family, partner, or spousal support is ordered.

Any party required to pay support must pay interest on overdue amounts at the "legal rate," which is currently 10 percent.
